This AMKFSC Community Services Ltd, founded in 1978 as a pilot Family Service Centre in Singapore, now operates a spectrum of children, youth, family, senior and specialized community-based services across 17 touch points in Central and North-East Singapore.

This visit features two innovative community development programs, Bakery Hearts and Transition Plus. Bakery Hearts provided a platform for asset building by involving women from low income families in the community to learn and bake together. Transition Plus, situated in a block of interim rental housing, reach out and build up the low income community through an Asset Based Community Development Model. Valuable lessons to community development, learnt from the programs will be shared in the
